Dear Parent/Carer

We have been alerted to an on-line challenge called 'Momo' that encourages players to perform a series of tasks. Although the challenges may seem light hearted at the beginning, we have been informed that they soon darken and potentially present a risk to our children's safety. We believe that these challenges are sometimes communicated by 'Whatsapp' or text.

Attached is some guidance for parents, about 'Momo', that has been produced by National On-line Safety. The 'Top Tips for Parents' are particularly helpful.

We will continue to remind our children in school of the importance of 'E Safety', building upon the 'E Safety' events we held at Aylward last half term.

The key messages for parents are to continue to be very aware of what your child is accessing on-line and to talk to your child regularly about the importance of staying safe on-line.

Kind regards
